Rachel Kossman

JackBe has introduced Transparency 2.0 Solution, a tool designed for state and local governments' citizen-facing websites to provide real-time data feeds and data widgets. The tool allows state and local agencies to deliver Stimulus, Recovery and related data to constituents. The 2.0 solution is built on Presto, JackBe's enterprise mashup platform, and has improved data visibility to help agencies make informed decisions quickly. The new platform allows government agencies to provide real-time insight into spending and investments and identifying opportunities for development and cohesion. County and municipal pricing is based on population.
