

Presto® App Depot

Find, Use and Share Secure Enterprise Apps Easily

As information budgets are shrinking data is increasingly disparate and complex. The pressure to deliver products, services, and answers is always increasing. With decreasing organizational budgets and an emphasis on reuse and increased time to market, today's enterprise is looking for ways business users can take advantage of valuable information spread throughout their organization. With the Presto App Depot, organizations can have a secure centralized environment for business users to discover reusable enterprise assets to meet the pressing business demands for better information.

Find, Use, Save & Share Apps Relevant to You

Presto, JackBe's Enterprise Mashup Platform, provides a self-service in-house App Store for users to find, use and share Apps across an organization. The Presto App Depot experience is a familiar one, with a focus on enterprise Apps that help users make better, faster decisions:

- Find: Business users can easily find relevant Apps by filtering through categories and providers or searching for highly-rated Apps created by their peers.
- Use: When users find relevant Apps, if they have the right permissions, those Apps can be instantly viewed in the 'Open Apps' gallery. Multiple Apps can be viewed at the same time for dynamic multitasking.
- Save: If a user finds an App they like, it can be added to their personal 'My Apps' gallery. 'My Apps' allows users to put their own personal touches on the App like login, colors, parameters, and further customizations to make the App their own.
- Share: With a few clicks, Apps can be republished and embedded wherever the users work, whether an enterprise portal, webpage, mobile device or collaboration platform such as Microsoft SharePoint.

Ensuring the Security of Your Enterprise Apps

Every App in the Presto App Depot can contain valuable enterprise data, so Presto provides the highest level of security. Both the Apps and the data within in the Apps are protected by Presto's enterprise-grade authentication and authorization security, regardless of where the App is being accessed.

- Review-and-Approval: Every App in the Presto App Depot must be reviewed and approved by an App Depot Manager. Incomplete or insecure Apps can be sent back to the App creator for correction or improvement. This approval workflow ensures that only the safest, highest-quality Apps are made available in the App Depot.
- User Authentication: Every user in the Presto App Depot must authenticate themselves, ensuring they see only the Apps for which they have permission. And the App Depot passes the user's credentials to the data sources behind the App, ensuring the data in the App is also appropriate for the user.
- Guest Access: The Presto App Depot lets you securely share Apps with employees across your organization as well as external customers, partners, and suppliers. As users share Apps with peers outside the App Depot, they can share Apps that are configured to provide 'universal access' to unauthenticated guests or can require the user to authenticate themselves.
